

Leech

Rock is back! Leech provides impressive prove for that! Their music breathes the digital smog of the 21st Century und spits it out with untamed analogue force! Their uncompromising mix of massive guitar grooves, catchy melodies and Robo's remarkable voice wows the audience every time. Talented song writing and stirring arrangements complete the full blown entertainment package that makes you want to jump and shout. That's probably the reason why Leech's self-produced first album "Impressions of a Mind's Eye" earned fantastic international reviews and provided the four 'Blood Suckers' with the opportunity to contribute to the compilation "Road to Nowhere" by L.A. label Poison Tree Records. World wide radio airplay and tours in Germany, France and Poland also significantly helped Leech expand their fan base. Following some personnel changes the "hopefuls from Germany" (Dardevil Records) are eagerly working on the final cuts of their second album...and soon they'll hit the road again... sounding better than ever and burning to present the new songs to their fans.
